PROFILE

Eddie Ockenden is set to make his fourth Olympic Games appearance with his selection in the men's hockey team. Eddie is the co-captain of the Kookaburras.

Eddie, an International Player of the Year nominee and triple Olympian goes into the 2020 Olympic Games with over 366 caps for the Kookaburras (most capped Australian player).

Eddie made his International debut in 2006, making him the most experienced players in the team. Despite not being selected on the 2007 Champions Trophy side, Eddie fought his way back into the team and was the youngest male hockey player at the Beijing 2008 Olympic Games.

In 2013, Eddie became the first Tasmanian to score 50 goals for Australia and was named 'Tasmanian Athlete of the Year' in 2014.
